Sociology Student Spotlight

Tom Siskar

Tom chose to become a sociology major because of his interests in urban studies and public policy. In addition to sociology, he is also majoring in Economics and Urban and Public Policy Studies. This semester, Tom is studying sociology in London through the UB Semester in London Program.

After graduation next year, Tom's plans include pursuing a PhD in sociology with a focus on urban sociology and public policy. Someday he hopes to use his degree to work in a policy advising position.

Congratulations, Tom!
